

DATA PROTECTION POLICY

We are committed to protecting your personal information. With this in mind we are letting you know that we will store your email address in our database so that we can keep you up to date with news on our activities.

You can ask us to stop using your information at any time by emailing us at info@artcinema.art. You may also request access to the personal data we have about you and that any incorrect personal data we have about you be rectified, or request that we erase you from our database.

If you have any questions about how we care for and use your personal information please contact us at info@artcinema.art
